Your Affordable Hill Country Getaway

Whether you're looking for a quiet weekend getaway or an adventure-filled family vacation, Junction is a unique Hill Country destination that's big on natural beauty yet light on your pocketbook.

You'll appreciate being able to unwind in Junction's casual small town atmosphere, where you can still find a scrumptious piece of homemade pie or banana pudding at the local café. Mind-boggling crowds and heavy traffic do not exist. Discover one of the best kept secrets in Texas and enjoy friendly people, great places to stay and eat, wonderful rivers and parks to play in, fun-filled annual events, star-filled nights and scenic routes in every direction. Nestled right in the middle of the Texas Hill Country, with views ranging from stunning valleys to rolling plains and pristine rivers to rugged limestone bluffs, Junction is the nature lover's choice as an affordable home base for daily excursions throughout the Hill Country.

Well known for the crystal clear Llano Rivers, South Llano River State Park, abundant wildlife and year-round exotic hunting, the Junction area also has more live water springs than any place in Texas. This Land of Living Waters provides the outdoor enthusiast with a recipe for exciting opportunities--swimming, tubing, kayaking, fishing, hunting, birding, hiking, biking, motorcycling, nature photography, and more.

With an endless list of area activities and attractions to choose from, you'll have the freedom to plan a daily travel itinerary that suits your interests. Whether that includes taking in Fredericksburg's art galleries, trail riding in Bandera, climbing Enchanted Rock, watching a bat flight in Rocksprings, touring a cave in Sonora, visiting the Motorcycle Museum in Vanderpool, listening to live music in Luckenbach, or dancing at London Hall, it's all doable.

Of course, you may just want to stay put and enjoy Junction's lovely little spot in the country.
